Public Comment Period

Chairman Edds said all data center related comments will be withheld until the Public Hearing on the Moratorium.

County Attorney Jay Dees reiterated the rules of Public Comment period.

Chairman Edds opened the floor for Public Comment and closed it after everyone wishing to speak had done so.

Bobby Kemp addressed the Board regarding property taxes and revaluation, stating that rising costs continued to cause hardship for seniors, disabled individuals, veterans, and others on fixed incomes. He explained that most of his Social Security income was used to pay property taxes and homeowner's insurance and emphasized that many residents could not afford additional increases. Mr. Kemp requested that the Board not raise taxes, encouraged exploration of alternative budget solutions, and noted ongoing efforts at the state level that could allow voters to decide on property tax matters.

Mark Ortiz addressed the Board with broader concerns about what he described as increasing economic austerity and privatization, stating that rising costs and reduced public support constituted a "war" on ordinary people. He criticized decision-making that he believed favored private interests over public input and expressed concern about the loss of individual autonomy and access to knowledge. Mr. Ortiz urged residents to resist these trends.

Tim Trogdon addressed the Board regarding concerns about the prevalence of internet, phone, and mail scams and the lack of law enforcement resources dedicated to responding to them. He described difficulties obtaining assistance from the Sheriff's Office, shared a personal experience involving debit card fraud during COVID, and stated that limited staffing and budget constraints prevented adequate investigation of such cases. Mr. Trogdon requested that the Board allocate funding to support a designated resource within law enforcement to address scams, noting the growing reliance on the internet for everyday financial activities.

Technology Advisory Committee

Randy Cress, Assistant County Manager/Chief Information Officer, presented a proposal to establish a Rowan County Community Technology Advisory Committee under the authority of the Board of Commissioners, with the committee serving in an advisory role and reporting directly to the Board. He explained that the committee would address community-facing technology issues, including emerging technologies, digital literacy, education, broadband, and economic development, and would provide research and recommendations to assist Board decision-making. Mr. Cress outlined proposed membership, including county staff, at-large members with relevant technology experience, and potential representation from K–12 schools and Rowan-Cabarrus Community College, with members appointed through the standard application process. He also reviewed proposed terms, staggered appointments, and committee operations, and requested Board direction on adopting a resolution and finalizing membership details.

Chairman Edds suggested modifying the proposed Community Technology Advisory Committee to include representatives from local colleges, K–12 school system IT leadership, and the private technology sector. He stated that having members who work professionally with technology would strengthen the committee's ability to provide informed, practical guidance to the Board. Commissioner Edds emphasized that diverse technical expertise would help the Board better understand rapid technological changes and reduce confusion around complex technology issues.

Vice-Chairman Greene clarified that staggered terms should be implemented.

Commissioner Caskey expressed support for the proposed Community Technology Advisory Committee, noting that technology now affects nearly every aspect of county operations and daily life. He stated that the committee could help the Board better understand current and emerging technologies, particularly as they relate to public safety, first responders, and county services. Commissioner Caskey emphasized that having a group focused on anticipating future technological changes would help prepare the County for evolving needs, such as advancements in data centers and other infrastructure.

On motion of Edds, seconded by Pierce, the Board voted 5-0 to adopt a Resolution Establishing the Rowan County Community Technology Advisory Committee as a Board of Commissioners advisory body to study and make recommendations on community technology issues referred by the Board, and added the Rowan-Salisbury School System Chief Technology Officer or designee and the Rowan-Cabarrus Community College Chief Information Officer or designee to the membership.

Legislative Hearing to Consider Moratorium Ordinance for Data Centers

Eli Hardin, Assistant County Attorney, presented a proposed one-year countywide moratorium on new data center development within the County's zoning jurisdiction, explaining that the moratorium was authorized under state planning statutes and intended to provide time for study and public input. He outlined the definition of data centers, the scope of the moratorium, including a temporary halt on permits, rezonings, and related approvals, and the proposed timeline for staff review, Planning Board hearings, ordinance development, and Board consideration, along with required opportunities for public participation and noted exemptions.

Commissioner Edds further explained the process to the public, emphasizing that the Planning Board would first study the issue and hold hearings, make recommendations to the Board of Commissioners, and that multiple opportunities would be provided for citizen input before any permanent zoning changes were considered or adopted.

Chairman Edds acknowledged the strong emotions surrounding the proposed data center project and thanked the public for attending and participating respectfully, noting that all parties shared the goal of protecting Rowan County. He explained that economic development projects often involve many prospective users that never materialize, and that the public typically becomes aware of a project only once site work begins, which understandably creates fear and confusion. He clarified that current activity on Long Ferry Road consisted primarily of site preparation and infrastructure work, including power substation development, and emphasized that uncertainty about the end user was uncomfortable but not unusual in economic development.

Chairman Edds explained that, due to existing legal rights of the current landowner, the Long Ferry Road project could not simply be canceled at this stage; however, the Board and community still retained influence and responsibility to protect residents moving forward. He stated that the Board intended to adopt a moratorium on future data center development to allow time to develop permanent, enforceable standards, similar to previous actions taken with solar farm development. While the current project could not be included in the moratorium, the Board committed to immediately engaging the current landowner to establish clear, measurable, and enforceable community protections, noting that the developer had strong incentives to cooperate to protect its reputation and ability to operate elsewhere.

Chairman Edds outlined an extensive framework of proposed community protection expectations to guide those discussions, including no tax incentives for data centers, developer responsibility for all infrastructure costs, strict water resource protections through closed-loop cooling systems, independent hydrological studies and monitoring, and zero discharge requirements. Additional proposed standards addressed noise and vibration controls, generator emissions and renewable fuels, restricted maintenance testing schedules, fuel storage and spill prevention, dark-sky lighting, architectural design standards, landscaping and sound barriers, road maintenance bonding, property value protection mechanisms, grid reliability safeguards, and public safety investments.

Further protections discussed included prohibitions on PFAS and hazardous chemicals, strict environmental monitoring and audits, zero on-site e-waste processing, detailed waste tracking and reporting, advanced sound modeling and real-time public noise monitoring, and a comprehensive public accountability portal. Chairman Edds also described expectations for local workforce and education partnerships, including collaborations with local colleges, internships, local hiring priorities, job fairs, and regular reporting on local economic impact. Long-term accountability measures included decommissioning bonds, anti-expansion provisions, land-use restrictions, subdivision prohibitions, liquidated damages for violations, heat-island mitigation, and traffic and lighting controls during construction.

Chairman Edds further detailed proposed ethics and integrity requirements to prevent conflicts of interest, including sworn affidavits for officials and consultants, gift and contribution prohibitions, disclosure of lobbyists and financial ties, post-employment bans, enforcement penalties, and public transparency through published documentation. He stated that these measures were intended to protect the integrity of the process, ensure public trust, and shield the Board from accusations of impropriety. He concluded by emphasizing that these standards represented a starting point rather than final regulations, referenced evolving industry expectations, and reaffirmed the Board's desire to listen to public input before proceeding

At 7:20 p.m. Chairman Edds opened the public hearing.

Shannon Solomon presented the Board with a handout (Attachment A) and a signed petition (Attachment B) containing approximately 5,000 signatures opposing the proposed data center project. She lives approximately two miles from the Long Ferry Road site. She stated that residents felt inadequately informed about the project, expressed concerns about potential impacts on water use, electricity demand, noise, traffic, lighting, property values, and overall quality of life, and requested an immediate halt to all permits and site work until independent studies and enforceable protections were in place. Ms. Solomon called for a binding community benefits agreement, strong environmental safeguards, local job commitments, infrastructure support, and ongoing community oversight, stating that the petition represented a mandate from residents to pause the project until protections were secured.

Sal Cerbone, a resident whose property is located approximately 200 feet from the Long Ferry Road site, spoke in opposition to the project and described significant ongoing construction noise beginning early each morning and continuing for extended hours. He stated that nearby residents felt they were not properly notified of the project, questioned whether legal notice requirements were adequately met, and emphasized that surrounding landowners did not support the development. Mr. Cerbone expressed concern that the project was being placed in a rural, lower-income area without regard for its impact on residents' quality of life, cited past environmental burdens in the area, and urged the Board to stop the project, stating that affected neighbors did not want the development in their community. He referenced a document he was holding and stated that it was a petition in opposition of the project, but he did not provide this document to the Board.

Commissioner Pierce left the meeting unexcused at 7:26 p.m.

Charles Solomon spoke in opposition to the AI data center and raised concerns beyond environmental and health impacts, focusing on the broader economic effects of artificial intelligence on employment. He stated that AI technology was contributing to significant job displacement across multiple industries and expressed concern that a large data center could accelerate those trends. Mr. Solomon questioned whether the County should support development that he believed could negatively affect workers and constituents in the future.

Laura Fitzgerald addressed the Board expressing concern about the proposed 3.3-million-square-foot hyperscale AI data center on Long Ferry Road and stated that the public had not received sufficient transparency regarding the project. She cited information obtained through public records requests indicating the project had been discussed privately for more than a year, raised concerns about water use, increased electric demand and rates, environmental impacts, limited job creation, and the lack of clearly defined public benefits or incentives. Ms. Fitzgerald requested a binding community benefits agreement and a true moratorium that would pause the project until comprehensive studies, enforceable protections, and full public disclosure were completed.

Scott Huffman stated that the residents in attendance were present because they were concerned and wanted their voices heard. He argued that excluding the Long Ferry Road project from the proposed moratorium undermined its purpose and cited examples of other North Carolina communities that had enacted pauses to allow for public input and careful review. Mr. Huff expressed concerns about rising electric demand, potential rate increases, and the burden on seniors and working-class families, and criticized prior support for utility rate hikes while residents faced increasing costs. He urged the Board to enact a comprehensive moratorium that included the Long Ferry Road project, stating that only a full pause would allow the community time to organize, ask questions, protect resources, and ensure that taxpayers were not left bearing infrastructure costs associated with the development.

Kristin Stauffer spoke in opposition to the proposed data center, citing past experiences with environmental damage and expressing concern about potential long-term harm to farmland, water, wildlife, and ecosystems. The speaker warned that industrial operations associated with the project could negatively impact soil quality, lakes, parks, and agricultural land, with lasting consequences for future generations. She urged the Board to protect rural areas and farmland, stating that such land once damaged would not be recoverable and should not be sacrificed for industrial development.

Joshua Cool stated that he works in ecological land management and has experience in wildlife conservation. He spoke in opposition to the proposed data center and emphasized potential impacts on local wildlife and ecosystems. He cited declines in bird populations, explaining that noise from large industrial facilities could disrupt bird communication and breeding, and raised concerns about heat-island effects harming species such as frogs and box turtles that rely on specific environmental conditions for reproduction. Mr. Cool argued that the project would cause permanent damage to soil and habitats, criticized excluding the Long Ferry Road project from the proposed moratorium, and urged the Board to protect local ecosystems for future generations.

Leslie Poe Parker, a 72-year-old member of the Poe family who lives less than a half mile from the proposed Long Ferry Road development, addressed the Board expressing concern on behalf of her family and nearby relatives who would be directly impacted. She stated that the property involved is residential and family-owned, and noted that many relatives live in adjacent single-family homes. Ms. Parker, who said she is a biologist by training, warned that the project could have lasting environmental repercussions and expressed concern that promised protections often fail over time, leaving residents to bear the consequences. She urged the Board to consider a moratorium on the Long Ferry Road development to protect the surrounding community.

Carolyn Mellone expressed concern about the proposed data center, stating that residents had previously received extensive notice and information regarding past developments in the area but did not receive clear or meaningful notice about the data center zoning request. She asserted that the process lacked transparency, raised concerns about environmental impacts, water and electricity usage, fire safety capacity, limited long-term job creation, and potential strain on public resources, and referenced prior power outages and unresolved environmental issues such as coal ash. She urged the Board to consider the impacts on residents' health, safety, and quality of life and questioned whether the project provided sufficient public benefit to justify its effects on the surrounding community.

Commissioner Klusman stepped away from the meeting at 7:47 p.m.

Bobby Kemp is concerned about the proposed data center, stating that the project appeared to have lacked transparency and that residents deserved honesty and clear information from the outset. He raised concerns about potential health impacts they associated with data centers, including cancer and other long-term health effects, and questioned what guarantees or protections would exist if negative outcomes occurred in the future. Citing personal health experiences and concern for children, grandchildren, and nearby families, he urged the Board to take more time for research, independent study, and careful consideration, emphasizing the value of protecting human life and public health.

Rick Mahaley described the personal and neighborhood impacts of the ongoing site activity. He shared the history of his family home and community, stating that the area had long been a close-knit, rural neighborhood and that the current construction had disrupted his plans to retire peacefully on the property. Mr. Mahaley described experiencing dust, noise, diminished quality of life, health concerns, and reduced enjoyment of his home and property, including impacts to his grandchildren and worries about declining property values. He urged the Board to recognize the direct effects on nearby residents and to stop the project immediately due to its impact on homes, health, and the surrounding community.

Commissioner Klusman returned to the meeting at 7:52 p.m.

Henry Edward Womble III, a retired military veteran and longtime Rowan County resident whose family has lived in the area since the 1800s, spoke in opposition to any data center development in the county. He raised concerns about the significant electrical demand of data centers, noting that Duke Energy had previously asked residents to voluntarily reduce power usage due to limited capacity, and questioned how the local grid could support large data center operations without impacting residents. Citing these concerns and the potential strain on community resources, he urged the Board to oppose data centers in Rowan County.

Mark Ortiz commented on the Board's proposed list of conditions for data center development, stating that the standards were unusually comprehensive and more rigorous than what has typically been seen nationwide. He expressed skepticism about whether such conditions could realistically be enforced, noting that data centers elsewhere have not generally aligned with those expectations and that project details for Long Ferry Road appeared to change frequently without a finalized design. He stated support for applying the proposed standards consistently through a one-year moratorium on all data centers, citing concerns about scale, power consumption, and uncertainty surrounding the project's true scope.

Lisa Lennox expressed support for a data center moratorium and opposition to data center development in Rowan County. She stated that the proposed standards and requirements were well developed and encouraged the Board to ensure they are enforceable and applied to the Long Ferry Road project if it proceeds. She emphasized that many residents were relying on the Board to uphold these protections and ensure accountability moving forward.

London Saunders addressed the Board in opposition to data center development, citing examples from other states where large AI-focused data centers have required significant amounts of water and energy. She stated that such facilities consume resources comparable to those used by tens of thousands of households, which he argued would strain Rowan County's water supply, increase utility costs, and harm the local environment and economy. Ms. Saunders asserted that data centers provide minimal long-term job benefits, encouraged alternative uses of the Long Ferry Road site that would better serve local residents, and urged the County to use the moratorium to reconsider data centers altogether.

Bonnie Seeley stated that nearby residents did not want the data center project and were concerned about existing roadway safety along Long Ferry Road and surrounding intersections. She cited the lack of street lighting, caution signals, traffic studies, and recent serious accidents, and expressed concern that increased construction and employee traffic would worsen an already dangerous situation. She urged the Board to address road improvements, traffic monitoring, and safety infrastructure before allowing any further development associated with the project.

Desiree Rincon, a U.S. Marine Corps veteran who recently returned to Rowan County to start her family, addressed the Board expressing opposition to the proposed data center near Long Ferry Road. She stated that she returned to the area for its land, quiet environment, and quality of life, and raised concerns about the project's potential impacts on energy demand, water usage, environmental and health risks, and limited job creation. Ms. Rincon urged the Board to enact a moratorium on data center development until these issues are fully studied and addressed, emphasizing the importance of protecting the community for current and future residents.

Tianca Crawford was called but did not respond for comment.

Carla Ray was called and declined to speak.

John Schaffer a U.S. Army veteran and Salisbury resident of approximately 12 years, spoke in opposition to data center development and shared prior experiences living near major data centers in Ohio. He stated that promised mitigation measures in other communities were not fulfilled and identified continuous noise and extreme power consumption as major concerns, noting that even modest-sounding decibel increases can have significant impacts over time. Mr. Schaffer expressed support for a one-year moratorium with strong enforceable standards and urged the Board to find a way to apply those standards retroactively to the Long Ferry Road project due to its scale, uncertainty, and potential impacts on residents and local infrastructure.

Sylvia Butler lives less than a mile from the proposed Long Ferry Road data center. She is concerned about the project's impact on her longtime family property and quality of life. She expressed worry about potential decreases in property value and stated that background noise from the facility could significantly affect her hearing, communication, and cognitive health as an elderly, hearing-impaired resident. Ms. Butler urged the Board to stop the project, citing concerns about accessibility, compliance with disability protections, and the potential inability to sell her property if needed for future care.

Caren Landis expressing concern about continuous ambient noise and explaining how even low-level, constant sound can significantly impact people with hearing impairments and cognitive health. The speaker questioned the reliability of closed-loop cooling systems, citing concerns about system failures, toxic chemical discharge, long-term environmental contamination, and shifting costs to the community over time. While acknowledging the proposed standards, the speaker stated a lack of trust in long-term enforcement based on experiences with similar facilities elsewhere and urged the Board to stop the project to protect residents who do not want to leave their homes.

Vice-Chairman Greene stepped away from the meeting at 8:22 p.m.

Chairman Edds asked attendees if there was anyone else who would like to speak.

Dean Stein thanked the Board for their effort and acknowledging the thoroughness of the proposed standards while expressing concern that contractual protections can be weakened through negotiation and may not be reliably enforced over time. He questioned why similar due diligence and safeguards were not developed prior to approval of the Long Ferry Road data center and asked whether the Board would consider applying the same standards retroactively to that project. Emphasizing trust, accountability, and the volume of public opposition expressed, he urged the Board to genuinely consider residents' concerns, particularly regarding quality-of-life impacts such as constant construction and operational noise, and to prioritize constituents over anticipated tax benefits.

Vice-Chairman Greene returned to the meeting at 8:24 p.m.

Samantha Haspel said she supports a moratorium on data center development but requested a stronger commitment to prohibit future hyperscale AI data centers in Rowan County. She raised concerns about transparency in the zoning notification process, questioned discrepancies in the number of notices sent for different rezonings, and stated that this contributed to a lack of public trust. She also expressed concern about enforceability of proposed conditions, potential surveillance and national security implications of hyperscale AI facilities, and urged the Board to ensure that community protections have clear enforcement mechanisms and meaningful authority.

Chairman Edds addressed the audience following public comment, explaining that the lack of a defined end user made it challenging to finalize project-specific details but did not prevent the County from setting clear expectations and standards for any future data center development. He stated that the Long Ferry Road project had been approved approximately two years earlier, acknowledged concerns raised regarding notification, and noted that the Planning Board would review the matter, emphasizing that the County is now operating in a different environment with greater awareness of data center impacts.

Chairman Edds stated that increased national scrutiny of data centers had changed the County's approach and that the Board was committed to developing stronger, enforceable protections for the community. He emphasized his personal investment in the issue, noting that he lives nearby and is committed to ensuring that neighbors and residents are not harmed by any development, and stated that he did not want his name associated with an outcome that negatively affects the community.

Chairman Edds thanked residents for their respectful participation, acknowledged that the uncertainty had been difficult for both the public and the Board, and expressed appreciation for the feedback received. He offered to meet individually with residents, affirmed that additional work remained ahead, and announced that the Board would proceed with deliberation and a vote on the proposed moratorium.

At 8:34 p.m. Chairman Edds closed the public hearing.

Mr. Hardin advised the Board that, due to Commissioner Pierce no longer being in attendance, state statute and county ordinance required a second reading before the proposed data center moratorium could take effect. He explained that ordinances cannot be enacted with less than full attendance and that the second reading would occur at the next regular meeting, with no additional public hearing required. Mr. Hardin recommended that, if the Board moved forward, the effective dates in the moratorium be extended by two weeks so that the moratorium would remain a full one-year term beginning after the second reading.

Chairman Edds acknowledged the clarification regarding procedure and timing and confirmed that the matter would proceed accordingly, subject to verification of attendance and statutory requirements.

Various audience members made comments disputing the explanation, including expressing frustration and characterizing the delay as unacceptable, while County Attorney Jay Dees reiterated that the second reading was a procedural requirement under state law and not a matter of transparency or discretion.

Chairman Edds invited Samantha Haspel to the microphone to act as a spokesperson for the community to relay concerns about the second reading.

Ms. Haspel relayed concern and frustration that a Commissioner Pierce left the meeting and stated that the departure prevented immediate action despite a quorum and significant public attendance. She emphasized that residents had come expecting action on the matter and felt the Commissioner's actions were disrespectful to those present. She urged accountability, stating that elected officials should remain engaged and responsive to the community during such proceedings.

Commissioner Klusman reiterated that, as explained by the Chairman and County Attorney, a quorum was present for discussion, but state law requires all commissioners to be present for final passage of an ordinance. She acknowledged that the Board intended to proceed with a vote once permissible and expressed understanding of the procedural requirements. She issued an apology on behalf of the Board for circumstances beyond its control that affected the timing of final action.

Ms. Haspel said that despite assurances about accountability, enforcement, and placing strong conditions on potential data center development, a commissioner left the meeting during a critical moment, and questioned how enforceable any requirements on a data center would truly be. She stated that the walkout undermined public confidence and was viewed as disrespectful to residents who attended and participated throughout the meeting. She emphasized that the situation eroded public trust, noting that residents were now being asked to return for a future meeting to ensure that action is taken and that no changes occurred during the intervening period, particularly given that all commissioners were present at the start of the meeting.

Mr. Womble approached the microphone and asked for clarification on the difference between tonight's vote and the vote on the second reading.

Mr. Hardin clarified that, under state law, a Board of Commissioners must adopt an ordinance in two identical readings if there is not perfect attendance at the meeting where the ordinance is first considered. He explained that this requirement applies broadly to governing boards such as county commissions and city councils and has been established in state statute for many years. Mr. Hardin emphasized that the second reading is procedural in nature and is required regardless of the Board's intent, serving as a statutory safeguard rather than a discretionary action by the Board.

Chairman Edds explained the procedural mechanics of adopting the proposed data center moratorium under state law. He stated that the Board would vote that evening to approve the moratorium as presented, but because perfect attendance was not achieved, the ordinance would require a second reading at the next regular meeting before becoming effective. Chairman Edds clarified that the second reading would be placed on the consent agenda, would not involve further debate or changes, and would not be re-litigated, with the ordinance taking effect in the same form as approved at the current meeting.

Chairman Edds led a procedural discussion regarding the requirements for adopting the proposed data center moratorium under state law. He asked whether, if the moratorium were approved that evening and placed on the consent agenda for the next meeting, a commissioner could remove it from the consent agenda and whether such an action could be overridden. Mr. Dees explained that, under the Board's customary practice, any single commissioner may request removal of an item from the consent agenda as a courtesy, at which point it would be considered on the regular agenda and subject to a majority vote, though the ordinance text could not be changed between readings.

Mr. Hardin and Mr. Dees further clarified that the moratorium must be passed in identical form twice if perfect attendance was not achieved at the first reading. The second reading must occur at a regularly scheduled meeting, not a special called meeting, and does not require unanimous attendance or a public hearing. Mr. Dees explained that the purpose of the second-reading statute is to prevent bad-faith actions and ensure absent board members have the opportunity to participate.

Chairman Edds summarized that, if the ordinance passed unanimously that evening, it would advance to the consent agenda at the next regular meeting for its required second reading, where it would become effective without further debate upon approval unless removed from consent. He confirmed that, at the second reading, only a majority vote would be required and that the ordinance text could not be altered.

Vice-Chairman Greene called the question.

On motion of Edds, seconded by Greene, the Board voted 4-0 (Pierce absent) to approve an Ordinance of the Rowan County Board of Commissioners Imposing a One-Year Moratorium on the Development of Data Centers in Rowan County, North Carolina, and extend all dates therein by two weeks to accommodate for a Second Reading, with an effective date of May 4, 2026.

Mr. Dees clarified that the voted-upon text cannot change before the next meeting.

Chairman Edds called for a recess at 8:53 p.m.

The Board reconvened at 9:06 p.m.

Legislative Hearing: Z 01-26 and SNIA 01-26

Aaron Poplin, Planning Technician, provided a brief overview of a rezoning and watershed permit request for Tax Parcel 239-111-82, an approximately 82.24-acre property currently operating as the Morrisville Drag Strip. The request includes rezoning approximately 13 acres from Rural Agricultural (RA) to Commercial Business Industrial (CBI), and approval of a Surface Water Nutrient Impact (SNI) permit for 15.85 acres to exceed the 12% built-upon area limit within the Caudle Creek Watershed II area.

Mr. Poplin reviewed the proposed site plan, which includes a racing school and ten 11,000-square-foot garage suites intended for the storage of personal vehicles to be used on the track. It was noted that the public hearing on the request had been previously opened and left open to allow for additional public attendance and comment at this meeting.

At 9:09 p.m. Chairman Edds re-opened the public hearing.

Ethan Smith, a resident of Wilk Rob Road living directly across from the Mooresville Dragway property, spoke in strong opposition to the proposed rezoning request. He described his and his wife's deep generational and personal ties to the area, noting recent substantial investment in renovating a family home with the expectation of remaining in a rural residential community.

Mr. Smith stated that the proposed rezoning would allow more than 300,000 square feet of development, including a racing school and multiple garage buildings, and argued this represented a significant intensification rather than a minor change. He expressed concern that, when combined with other approved and ongoing commercial developments along Wilkinson Road, the proposal would effectively transform a historically rural corridor into a large-scale commercial and industrial district.

He criticized what he described as inadequate public engagement, stating that neither the recently adopted 2025 Land Use Plan nor the rezoning proposal was effectively communicated to most affected residents, despite the significant impact. Mr. Smith cited traffic impacts, lack of infrastructure, and cumulative development pressure as major concerns, and urged careful scrutiny of any traffic impact analysis. He also expressed frustration that outreach efforts by residents were more extensive than county notification efforts and that his emails to commissioners largely went unanswered.

Mr. Smith referenced (but did not present) a petition signed by neighbors opposing the rezoning and requested that the Board deny the request, arguing that the financial interests of a nonresident property owner should not outweigh the interests of long-standing rural families on Wilkinson Road.

Leah Robinson read a statement into record (Attachment C). She said this statement had been emailed to Board members with limited response.

LouAnn Robinson a longtime resident of Wilkinson family land living directly across from the Mooresville Dragway property, spoke in strong opposition to the proposed rezoning. She emphasized her family's deep, multigenerational roots in Rowan County, stating that the Wilkinson family has lived, farmed, and contributed to the community for more than two centuries and remains actively engaged in local civic, educational, and economic life.

Ms. Robinson described the cumulative impacts of existing commercial development along Wilkinson Road and surrounding areas, including increased traffic, heavy trucks, and safety concerns, and stated that the area has already reached a tipping point. She expressed frustration at learning that the 2025 Land Use Plan designated Wilkinson and Wilkrob Roads as part of a commercial business corridor without what she believed to be adequate notice or opportunity for resident input, noting that only one person sharing a driveway received notification.

Ms. Robinson urged the Board to deny the rezoning request, stating that additional development associated with the drag strip would further intensify traffic, noise, and land use pressures in an area long characterized as rural. She concluded by asking the Board to protect the established community, preserve its rural character, and allow long-standing residents to remain in their homes.

Tony Robinson addressed the Board expressing opposition to the designation of his area as part of an industrial or commercial corridor. He stated that residents were not aware of this designation when it was adopted and asked whether it could be rescinded or reconsidered.

Mr. Robinson clarified that he did not oppose the existing drag strip, noting that it was present when he built his home and that residents had accepted and adjusted to it over time. However, he expressed concern about proposed expansions, including a racing school, stating that residents lacked clear information about its nature and did not want additional business development beyond the current operation. He requested that the Board consider removing the industrial designation from the area or placing a moratorium on further business development along Wilkrob Road.

Lisa Valdez, serving as counsel for the applicant, clarified details of the rezoning request and responded to statements made by prior speakers. She explained that the rezoning request involves approximately 13 acres currently zoned Rural Agricultural (RA), located south of and adjacent to land already zoned Commercial Business Industrial (CBI), and does not include the Mooresville Dragway itself, which is already zoned CBI. She stated that surrounding parcels in the area are already zoned CBI or industrial and that the rezoning request is intended to make the zoning of the property more consistent.

Ms. Valdez noted that the area proposed for rezoning is approximately a half mile from the residences of opposing speakers and emphasized that the proposed development consists of approximately 170,000 square feet, including private garage suites intended for storage of personal collectible vehicles, not for commercial business operations. She addressed concerns about notification and transparency, stating that the County's 2025 Land Use Plan followed a public process that included media coverage and public meetings, and argued that property owners share responsibility for remaining informed about planning initiatives. She further referenced the planning staff report and stated that the request is consistent with the Land Use Plan and zoning ordinance, that the Planning Board recommended approval unanimously, and requested that the Board approve both the rezoning and the associated watershed permit.

Chairman Edds opened the discussion by addressing public concerns regarding rezoning, land use planning, and notification practices, stating that he had requested staff clarification due to the volume of questions raised. He asked about the history of land use planning in the area, including when prior plans were adopted and what zoning existed before the 2025 Land Use Plan. Chairman Edds emphasized that land use plans are intended to provide organization as growth increases and acknowledged residents' frustration with learning about plans late in the process. He noted that the Board and Planning Board are discussing whether current notification standards are sufficient and stated that expanded tools such as email and text alerts are being explored.

Assistant Planning and Development Director Shane Stewart provided historical and procedural context, explaining that the County adopted the West Area Plan approximately 17 years ago, covering the Wilkinson/Wilk Rob Road area. He clarified that land use plans establish general guidance and do not change zoning, which only occurs through a formal rezoning request. Mr. Stewart described the public process for the 2025 Land Use Plan, including multiple open houses across the County, online outreach, social media notices, and approximately 550 public responses. He noted that attendance at long-range planning meetings is often limited and explained that expanding notice requirements would increase administrative costs and could require higher application fees.

Chairman Edds concluded by acknowledging that notification statutes and County practices have remained largely unchanged for decades, despite evolving public expectations and technology. He stated that the Board is concerned about residents feeling uninformed and intends to address notification policies systematically through the Planning Board rather than on a case-by-case basis. He confirmed that Planning Board leadership would be reviewing notice standards and potentially bringing recommendations to the Board for consideration.

At 9:53 p.m. Chairman Edds closed the public hearing.

Commissioner Caskey asked for clarification regarding neighboring properties and whether or not property owners have been in touch with Planning staff. Mr. Poplin pointed out neighboring properties and noted that no comments had been received. Commissioner Caskey asked if there were any additional parcels that would need to be rezoned for the motorsports complex and Mr. Poplin said there is no additional adjoining property needing rezoning.

Vice-Chairman Greene pointed out neighboring industrial businesses on a map.

Commissioner Caskey asked about hours for the racing school. Ms. Valdez said the school would operate during the day and would accept between five and seven professional drivers per day for simulation training.

Chairman Greg Edds stated that emails received from residents were carefully reviewed and prompted immediate action by the Board. He explained that he and Commissioner Jim Greene conducted an on-site visit the previous Friday, spending several hours walking and driving the property, reviewing maps, observing access points, and touring surrounding neighborhoods.

Chairman Edds said the visit provided important context that could not be fully understood from site plans alone and helped inform his assessment of the request.

Vice-Chairman Greene commented that it was his first visit to the area in decades and he was surprised by the extent of existing commercial and industrial development nearby. Both Chairman Edds and Commissioner Greene noted that the proposed development area was located deep within the property, downhill and at a significant distance from the roadway and nearby residences, making it less visible and less impactful than previously perceived. Chairman Edds stated that, based on his observations, he did not view the requested CBI rezoning in that specific location as problematic and did not believe it constituted incremental encroachment toward neighboring homes.

Commissioner Caskey noted that he had spoken with fire department personnel, who indicated the property owner appeared to be operating in a more professional manner and attempting to improve the site. Discussion then turned to traffic concerns, with Chairman Edds raising observations of heavy dump-truck activity on nearby roads that appeared unrelated to the rezoning request. Mr. Dees confirmed that this issue was already under investigation, with site visits completed and contact attempts underway with adjacent property owners, and Chairman Edds stated the County would follow up with the Department of Transportation regarding truck traffic and road impacts.

Vice-Chairman Greene called the question.

On motion of Edds, seconded by Greene, the Board voted 4-0 (Pierce absent) that Z 01-26 and SNIA 01-26 are consistent with the 2025 Land Use Plan and reasonable/appropriate based on the following:

- The proposed use is consistent with the Rural Commerce and Industrial designation, compatible with the surrounding area and would be contiguous with existing CBI zoning.
- The SNIA allocation is within the industrial sub-area of Mooresville Motorsports, intended to promote economic development and is within a community and regional node where uses in alignment with the 2025 Land Use Plan are encouraged.

On motion of Greene, seconded by Caskey, the Board voted 4-0 (Pierce absent) to approve Z 01-26 and SNIA 01-26.

Discussion: FY27 Rowan Transit System Fare Increase

Valerie Steele, Airport and Rowan Transit System Director, presented the proposed transit fare increase, explaining that Rowan County Transit's fully allocated cost exceeds $4.25 per mile while the current rider fare remains $2 per trip. She stated that the Transit Advisory Board, comprising senior services representatives and partner organizations, first discussed a potential increase in January, initially recommending $4 per trip and later revising its recommendation to $5 per trip to avoid repeated incremental increases. Ms. Steele emphasized that the proposed increase applies only to rural, general-public, door-to-door shared-ride services and does not affect all riders. She noted accommodations for hardship cases, education efforts prior to implementation, and partnerships with other agencies that may offset costs for fixed-income riders. She stressed that fare revenue is reinvested in the program to extend service availability rather than generate profit.

Commissioners engaged in discussion regarding the impact of the increase and possible alternatives. Chairman Edds expressed concern about raising the fare from $4 to $5 at once and questioned whether a smaller increase should be considered with the option to revisit the issue later. He acknowledged the difficulty of balancing rising operational costs with affordability for riders. Commissioner Caskey raised concerns about the magnitude of the increase and its potential burden on riders with limited incomes, while also noting the relatively small overall revenue increase, estimated at approximately $14,000 annually, relative to the county budget. Vice-Chairman Greene highlighted that transit users often rely on the service for essential medical and life-sustaining trips and recognized the importance of maintaining accessibility for those who cannot afford alternatives such as rideshare services.

Ms. Steele responded by clarifying that Rowan Transit does not operate at a loss but within the limits of allocated grant funding, meaning that lower fare revenue could accelerate depletion of funds and potentially result in denied rides. She explained that the program relies on multiple funding sources, requires conservative budgeting, and cannot rely on donations or additional pledges. Fare revenue represents only a small portion of the overall transit budget, but Ms. Steele reiterated that even modest additional revenue significantly impacts the program's sustainability. The Board acknowledged the tradeoff between affordability and service continuity, with Ms. Steele reiterating that the $5 recommendation reflects the Advisory Board's judgment to maintain service levels and minimize future disruptions.

The Board maintained that a large increase could cause undue hardship to clients.

On motion of Edds, seconded by Greene, the Board voted 4-0 to set the FY27 Rowan Transit System Fare rate at $2 per ride.

Quasi-Judicial Hearing: SUP 03-26

Chairman Edds called the hearing for consideration of SUP 03-26 to order and said the hearing would focus on an application submitted by Simona Cantrell to accommodate a canine training and boarding facility at 1205 Mt. Vernon Rd. further referenced as Tax Parcel 720 032. He said if any member of the Board may have a conflict of interest in hearing the case, they should address the Board prior to any testimony or information being presented. When the Board enters into deliberations to decide the case, no further testimony may be presented.

The Board will render one of the following three decisions:
1. Approve the permit as requested or with additional conditions;
2. Continue the request; or
3. Deny the request.

All parties who plan to testify in this case must be sworn in. Those who testify must state their name and address at the podium for the benefit of the Board's Clerk. All material presented must be given to the Clerk and will become part of the record. This Board can only accept sworn testimony. No hearsay evidence is admissible.

Clerk to the Board Sarah Pack swore in all those who wished to testify.

Vice-Chairman Greene stepped away from the meeting at 10:24 p.m.

Aaron Poplin presented the case for the County. He said that the a Special Use Permit (SUP) request from Simona Cantrell for a proposed dog kennel and training facility located at 1212.5 Mount Vernon Road (Rowan County Tax Parcel 720032). The property consists of approximately 33 acres and is zoned Rural Agricultural (RA), where dog kennels are permitted by special use. The applicant proposes an initial phase consisting of a boarding kennel building slightly over 1,000 square feet with fenced outdoor dog runs, with a second 6,000-square-foot building planned for a future phase contingent on the success of the initial operation. The kennel and associated facilities would be located near the front of the property along Mount Vernon Road, while the applicant's residence is currently under construction further back on the parcel.

Vice-Chairman Greene returned to the meeting at 10:26 p.m.

Mr. Poplin reviewed the ordinance standards applicable to dog kennels, noting that the proposal meets all required criteria, including minimum setbacks of 100 feet from all property lines, six-foot security fencing for outdoor runs, and required screening. Vegetative buffers are proposed along side property lines, and rear buffering currently meets ordinance requirements through fencing, with the option to substitute evergreen plantings in the future. Staff indicated that the proposed use is not expected to generate hazardous conditions, excessive noise, odor, glare, dust, or traffic, and that no more than two to three clients are anticipated on site at any given time. A commercial driveway permit from NCDOT will be required.

Mr. Poplin concluded by stating that the proposed use is compatible with the surrounding rural character of Mount Vernon Road, meets all zoning and screening requirements, and is similar in scale to what could otherwise be allowed as a home-based operation but requires an SUP due to the nature of a kennel use. He outlined the quasi-judicial process required for consideration, explaining that the Board would need to conduct a hearing and make specific findings of fact addressing ordinance criteria, including impacts on surrounding properties and property values, for which the applicant had brought a witness to testify.

At 10:30 p.m. Chairman opened the floor for testimony.

John Suggs expressed concerns regarding the proposed Special Use Permit for the dog kennel and training facility. He described his long-term residence and farming operation in the area, emphasizing the importance of preserving the rural character of Mount Vernon Road and stating that rural land use, in his view, should not include additional business activity. While he stated he was not entirely opposed to the applicant personally and wished her success, he expressed concern about the introduction of a commercial use in a farming community.

Mr. Suggs raised specific concerns related to potential soil and environmental impacts from dog waste and wastewater runoff, as well as noise generated by dogs at the facility. Drawing on his farming experience, he explained that excessive animal density can lead to long-term soil degradation and parasite issues, which he stated he had personally encountered and corrected over time. He asked the Board to consider these potential impacts on neighboring properties and the broader farming community before making a decision.

Chairman Edds asked if Mr. Suggs sold animals or operating a business from his home. Mr. Suggs said he was not currently selling any animals from his home.

Tracy Suggs explained that she and her neighbors chose to live in the area for its rural character, quietness, and peaceful environment, and emphasized that her primary concern was the potential for ongoing noise from barking dogs. While noting that farm-related noises already exist, she stated that those sounds are intermittent and differ from the constant noise that could occur at a boarding kennel.

Ms. Suggs emphasized that her concerns were not personal and not directed toward the applicant, describing the neighborhood as close-knit, welcoming, and supportive. She expressed concern that the proposed facility would be located closer to neighboring homes than to the applicant's residence, meaning nearby residents would experience most of the impacts. Based on her personal experience with boarding facilities and dogs that bark frequently, she questioned whether a "quiet" boarding operation was realistic.

Ms. Suggs also raised questions about the long-term implications of issuing a Special Use Permit, including whether the permit would remain with the property if ownership changed and whether future uses could change without further public review. She stated that she attended the meeting primarily to seek clarification and voice concerns rather than to oppose the applicant personally, and requested that the Board carefully consider maintaining the rural character and quality of life of the surrounding area.

Brad Roof said he is concerned about what will be visible from his property and if traffic will increase.

Stephanie Roof questioned the potential for noise and whether or not property values would be affected.

Simona Cantrell is the applicant for Special Use Permit 03-26 for the property located at 1205 Mount Vernon Road. She stated that she has more than 15 years of experience in the dog training industry, is a certified canine conditioning trainer, and is currently working toward certification as a canine behavior consultant. Ms. Cantrell explained that the proposed facility would offer professional dog training and boarding services, emphasizing that it is not intended to operate as a high-turnover or retail-style business.

Ms. Cantrell described the operation as an educational facility focused on dog psychology, mental stimulation, and enrichment, with the goal of maintaining calm and controlled behavior while dogs are on site. She stated that the facility would operate strictly by appointment only, allowing full control over activity levels, traffic, and noise. She emphasized that the specialized nature of the services would limit the number of dogs present and prevent congestion or uncontrolled activity.

Ms. Cantrell noted that she will reside on the approximately 35-acre property and is personally committed to maintaining a quiet, professional environment that respects the rural character of the Woodleaf community. She also addressed concerns raised about farming, stating that the land is currently enrolled in the farming program and that she intends to keep it in that program. Ms. Cantrell concluded by expressing her willingness to answer any questions from the Board.

Mike Elam clarified the project will be completed in two phases, with Phase 1 being a single building, and Phase 2 being an additional building if the business is successful.

Commissioner Klusman asked how big the dog runs would be.

Ms. Cantrell explained that dogs boarded at the facility would primarily be those enrolled in the training program, with a strong emphasis on structured enrichment and mental stimulation to ensure calm behavior and appropriate rest periods. She stated that each dog would have an individual outdoor run with privacy fencing between runs to prevent stress or "fence fighting," and that outdoor activity would occur only under staff supervision.

Ms. Cantrell emphasized that the dogs would not be left unattended or allowed to run freely, and that the facility would not house large numbers of dogs barking uncontrollably. Drawing on her more than 15 years of professional experience, she stated that excessive barking is neither acceptable nor beneficial to dogs' mental well-being and that her training approach is designed to minimize noise through engagement, structure, and behavioral management.

Commissioner Caskey asked for clarification regarding the type of dogs the facility would house. Ms. Cantrell said she is the sole professional owner of the business and all dogs are handled with care using strict safety rules. The majority of the boarded dogs are expected to be from existing clients who will bring their dogs for training.

Chairman Edds shared his perspective based on experience responding to numerous long-term dog barking complaints during his tenure, stating that persistent nighttime barking has historically been one of the most disruptive quality-of-life issues for residents. He described receiving repeated calls and videos from frustrated neighbors, often late at night, and emphasized his understanding of how constant barking can severely affect nearby homeowners, particularly those trying to sleep.

Chairman Edds expressed sympathy for both the applicant's desire to start a business and the neighbors' desire for peace and quiet, noting that the Board is often tasked with finding a balance between supporting entrepreneurship and protecting residents from negative impacts. He stated that his primary concern was ensuring that nearby residents would not be subjected to frequent or overnight barking, especially those living directly across the road from the proposed facility.

He posed questions about what safeguards or conditions could realistically prevent excessive noise and asked how a “happy medium” might be achieved so all parties could coexist. Chairman Edds emphasized the need for enforceable solutions that would protect neighbors over time as the business grows, stating that the Board’s goal was to avoid crushing anyone’s goals while also ensuring that nearby residents can continue to enjoy quiet, peaceful homes.

Mr. Elam addressed the Board to respond to concerns raised about noise, odors, traffic, and environmental impacts associated with the proposed dog kennel and training facility. He explained that a row of evergreen trees would be installed along the property line to help mitigate noise, reduce wind, and assist with odor control. He stated that this vegetative buffering was designed to provide an added layer of separation between the facility and neighboring properties.

Mr. Elam also addressed concerns regarding drainage and waste management, explaining that the facility would utilize an engineered filtration system rather than a closed recycling system. He stated that drainage would be properly filtered and managed to prevent environmental impacts, including odor issues, and emphasized that the system was designed by engineers to meet applicable standards.

Additionally, Mr. Elam noted that a second NCDOT-approved driveway entrance was being planned to separate residential and business access, with the residence and business having distinct entrances. He stated that the site layout, buffering, drainage improvements, and access points were designed to minimize impacts on neighbors and that the applicant was willing to implement additional measures if required by the Board to address community concerns.

Ms. Cantrell also responded to the Board’s questions and concerns regarding nighttime noise and proximity to neighboring properties. She stated that the proposed kennel building would be approximately 250 feet from the nearest property line and that most dogs on site would be actively enrolled in training, which she said significantly reduces excessive barking. She explained that the facility will use closed-cell spray foam insulation, which provides sound-dampening benefits similar to noise reduction, further limiting noise transmission beyond the building.

Commissioner Caskey confirmed that dogs will be housed in the building at night.

Ms. Cantrell stated that dogs would remain inside the building during nighttime hours and that guillotine doors would be closed and secured to prevent any dogs from exiting outdoors at night. She emphasized that this design ensures dogs are contained within the building after hours and that there would be no unsupervised outdoor activity during nighttime periods.

Ms. Cantrell also referenced her personal familiarity with nighttime barking issues, noting that she has observed other dogs barking for extended periods late at night in the area through trail cameras on her property. Based on her professional experience, facility design, indoor containment, and operational controls, she stated her belief that even with multiple dogs housed at the facility, noise levels would be effectively managed and not noticeable to surrounding neighbors.

Commissioner Klusman shared personal experience with dog ownership, noting that dogs tend to bark most when they are outdoors and unsupervised. He stated that he has had limited issues with dogs when they are properly managed and indoor at night. Drawing from his background as a retired dairy farmer, he remarked that agricultural operations are also businesses and acknowledged that Rowan County, like many rural counties, is experiencing change and increasing development pressures.

Commissioner Klusman expressed support for the proposed application, characterizing it as a compatible rural business with a specialized, professional focus. He stated that the training-oriented nature of the facility and its location made it a reasonable use in a rural area, noting that some city residents seek services like this outside more densely populated areas. He encouraged fellow Board members to support the application and expressed optimism about its potential success.

Ms. Cantrell responded by reaffirming that excessive barking typically occurs when dogs are untrained, bored, or inadequately supervised, conditions she stated would not exist at her facility. She emphasized that her operation is structured around professional training, discipline, and canine mental stimulation to maintain calm behavior.

Ms. Cantrell further explained that the facility is designed as a low-density, professional service intended to preserve the rural residential character of the area. She stated that the operation would serve as a community resource by providing education on canine psychology and training, helping owners develop well-behaved dogs. She reiterated that the facility would not function as a high-volume commercial boarding kennel and that the controlled, training-focused environment would ensure dogs remain quiet during rest periods, comparable to a typical residential setting.

Mr. Suggs addressed the Board again to express strong opposition to the proposed dog kennel and training facility, citing concerns based on personal experience with sound carrying over long distances in the area. He stated that from his house, located approximately 2,500 feet away, he can hear children speaking from a nearby residence, and therefore believes dog barking would carry significantly and disrupt nearby households. He emphasized that barking, once it starts, typically escalates as dogs respond to one another and does not stop easily.

Mr. Suggs expressed skepticism about assurances that barking would be controlled, stating that in his view, it is unrealistic to expect someone to stop barking dogs once they begin, particularly during nighttime hours. He questioned whether the applicant would realistically respond overnight to manage barking and stated that such situations are “time-proven” issues based on lived experience rather than theoretical controls.

He concluded by cautioning the Board to consider long-term impacts beyond assurances given during the approval process, stating his belief that once the permit is approved, enforcement or mitigation would become difficult. Mr. Suggs urged the Board to rely on historical experience with animal noise rather than promises made in support of the application.

Mr. Poplin noted that Mr. Elam was present as an expert witness on property values and instructed him to relay his qualifications and professional opinion.

Mr. Elam said he is the president of LendingTree and manages several related businesses, including construction and project finance operations across the United States. He explained that the proposed dog kennel and training facility would be a ground-up construction project and asserted that developing the property would significantly increase its value and contribute positively to the community.

Mr. Elam stated that the property is currently valued at approximately $86,000 and estimated that, with the proposed improvements, the value could increase to approximately $350,000. He described the project as a phased development, with an initial smaller phase and a potential second phase that could expand services, create additional jobs, and provide educational opportunities related to pet training and care.

He concluded by stating that the project represents a renewable resource for the community, with long-term benefits including increased property value, potential job creation, added income, and educational resources for pet owners, and expressed his belief that the proposed use would be a positive investment for Rowan County.

Commissioner Caskey asked planning staff to clarify whether a property owner living on a Rural Agricultural (RA) property is permitted to operate a business on that property. He stated that he recalled that certain businesses are allowed if the owner resides on site and requested confirmation of how that applies in this case.

Mr. Poplin explained that several business uses are allowed within an RA district if the owner lives on the property. He stated that the proposed dog kennel and training facility is similar in scale to a rural home occupation; however, it requires a Special Use Permit because it includes overnight boarding of dogs. Mr. Poplin clarified that if the operation were limited to dog training or grooming without overnight stays, it would be permitted by right as a home occupation and would not require a Special Use Permit.

Commissioner Caskey confirmed his understanding that the requirement for the Special Use Permit is specifically tied to overnight boarding. Mr. Poplin affirmed this, stating that because dogs would remain on the property overnight, the use meets the definition of a kennel and therefore requires Board approval through the Special Use Permit process.

Hearing no further testimony, Chairman Edds closed the public hearing at 11:03 p.m.

Chairman Edds stated that while he was initially inclined to support the Special Use Permit, testimony raised significant concerns about protecting nearby residents from nighttime noise. He emphasized his long experience responding to dog-barking complaints and stated he could not support the request without stronger, enforceable assurances that neighboring residents, particularly those directly across the road, would not be kept awake at night. Chairman Edds reiterated the Board's commitment to both private property rights and the rights of neighbors to quiet enjoyment and suggested options including continuing the item for additional safeguards, withdrawing and revising the proposal, or proceeding without his support. He stated he wanted to vote in favor but could not do so without clearer protections.

Vice-Chairman Greene expressed concern that the proposed kennel buildings were located near neighboring homes despite the size of the parcel, questioning why the use could not be placed farther from residences. He stated skepticism that training alone would fully prevent barking and emphasized that well-trained dogs can still bark, particularly when unfamiliar dogs are introduced. Vice-Chairman Greene indicated that placement and proximity were key issues for him.

Commissioner Klusman shared personal and professional experience, noting that dogs tend to bark when unsupervised and that well-trained dogs in controlled environments behave differently than nuisance animals. Citing experience with a home-based boarding operation and his background as a retired dairy farmer, he stated support for the application, characterizing it as a compatible rural business. Commissioner Caskey stated he understood both perspectives, noting that the facility being enclosed, insulated, and supervised would likely reduce noise, but he expressed openness to additional screening or revisions if needed to protect neighbors.

Mr. Dees stated that the Board has previously tabled similar matters to allow applicants and affected residents additional time to discuss concerns and explore possible modifications. He cited past examples involving racetracks and other uses, noting that additional setbacks, screening, or other mitigation measures sometimes made proposals more acceptable. Mr. Dees emphasized that tabling an item provides applicants the opportunity to consider revisions, engage with neighbors, and potentially return with changes that address concerns, or alternatively return without changes so the Board can make an informed decision.

Chairman Edds followed by explaining that commissioners often face complex, technical issues outside their professional expertise and rely on additional information to make decisions that balance private property rights with neighborhood protections. He stated that the Board's intent is not to hinder investment, but to avoid approving a project that could later create ongoing conflicts for residents and the County.

Chairman Edds suggested tabling the Special Use Permit request, allowing the applicant time to consult with appropriate experts and explore measures that could provide stronger assurances to neighboring property owners regarding noise and other impacts. He stated that the item could be brought back before the Board at a later date once additional information or proposed safeguards are developed.

Mr. Elam addressed the Board seeking guidance on what additional assurances would be necessary to address neighbors' concerns regarding potential noise impacts. He asked whether financial assurances such as a performance bond would be appropriate and reiterated that the project includes sound-mitigating design features, engineered systems, and vegetative buffering. Mr. Elam stated the applicant is willing to revise the proposal and comply with additional requirements if the Board identifies specific expectations.

Commissioners reviewed the site plan during discussion. Commissioner Klusman asked for clarification regarding proposed evergreen screening, and Mr. Elam confirmed that a continuous row of planted evergreens would be installed along the frontage, with the driveway as the only break, and that staggered or double rows could be added if required. Questions were raised by Chairman Edds regarding gaps in buffering and whether the plan allowed adequate separation to protect neighboring homes.

Mr. Dees and Planning staff noted that while minimum separation requirements were met, the submitted site plan lacked detailed landscaping, fencing, and buffering specifications typically used to evaluate compatibility with nearby residences. Mr. Dees explained that the Board's concern was not opposition to the use, but the absence of enforceable, clearly documented mitigation measures that neighbors could evaluate. He recommended tabling the request to allow the applicant time to work with staff and neighbors to develop a revised site plan with detailed screening and noise-mitigation commitments. Chairman Edds concurred, stating the Board's goal was to avoid denying the request while ensuring meaningful protections for adjoining properties, and indicated support for tabling the item to allow further revisions before reconsideration.

On motion of Edds, seconded by Klusman the Board voted 4-0 (Pierce absent) to table SUP 03-26 in order to allow the applicant and neighbors to come to an agreement for noise mitigation for May 18.

Subject: Delivery of 5,000+ Petition Signatures – Please Approve a One-Year Moratorium on all AI Data Centers and Strengthen Rezoning Protections.

Dear Honorable Members of the Rowan County Board of Commissioners,
My name is Shannon Solomon, and I live in Rowan County just a few miles from the proposed Long Ferry Rd site. Like so many of my neighbors, I am worried about the future of our communities. That is why I started this petition — and why more than 5,000 residents have now signed it as of April 19, 2026.

We are asking you to take immediate action: approve a one-year moratorium on all hyperscale data center development, especially in or near our residential, agricultural, and rural areas, and to strengthen our local rezoning and land-use rules to better protect us.

This concern feels very personal to me and to thousands of others because of the current project being evaluated on Long Ferry Road. Land there was recently purchased by a developer for a potential large-scale AI data center campus. Many of us who live nearby or drive that corridor every day fear the noise from constant generator testing, the massive draw on our water and electricity, the impact on air and water quality, and the changes this could bring to our quiet neighborhood and farmland.

We have already seen how quickly these projects can move forward, and we believe our community deserves time to plan thoughtfully instead of reacting after the fact.

These 5,000+ signatures come from real people — families raising children, farmers working the land, longtime homeowners, and small business owners — who simply want to protect the quality of life that makes Rowan County special. We are not against all growth, but we want smart, balanced growth that does not put an unfair burden on our infrastructure, health, or property values.

I respectfully ask that you:
1. Accept these petition signatures into the official record at today's public hearing on the data center moratorium.
2. Approve the one-year moratorium so we can pause new projects including the one on Long Ferry Road and create stronger protections.
3. Work with residents in an open and transparent way to develop policies that safeguard our homes, environment, and future (i.e. 3rd party environmental studies, community benefit agreements).

Presented today in physical form are the compiled signatures in boxes. A full digital list and the original petition text are available upon request.

Thank you for listening to your constituents. We are counting on you to put Rowan County families first.

Sincerely,
Shannon Solomon

- Over 5,000 petition signatures (printed in 1 box)
- Summary of key community concerns

Summary of Key Community Concerns

1. Massive Electricity Consumption and Rising Utility Bills
Large AI data centers can use as much power as tens of thousands of homes, straining local grids, raising blackout risks, and often driving up electricity rates for residents (sometimes due to favorable deals for the centers that shift costs elsewhere).

2. High Water Usage and Local Scarcity
Cooling systems require hundreds of thousands to millions of gallons of water daily. In drought-prone or stressed areas, this competes with homes, farms, and drinking water supplies, potentially depleting local sources.

3. Noise Pollution
24/7 humming from cooling fans and systems (often compared to constant lawn mowers or jets) disrupts sleep, daily life, and mental health for nearby residents. Backup generator tests add sudden loud bursts.

4. Air Pollution and Public Health Impacts
On-site diesel generators and grid reliance (often fossil-fuel based) emit pollutants that can worsen respiratory issues, asthma, and overall air quality—especially in vulnerable communities—while contributing to broader environmental concerns.

5. Ruining the area, and Loss of Farmland/Natural Areas
These massive facilities (often hundreds of acres) replace farmland, rural landscapes, or open space with industrial buildings and infrastructure, changing community character and reducing space for housing or agriculture.

6. Traffic, Construction Disruption, and Infrastructure Strain
Heavy truck traffic during construction damages roads, causes congestion, and burdens local services. Even after completion, the projects can strain public infrastructure without matching benefits for residents.

7. Limited Local Economic Benefits and Questions About Tax Incentives
Many jobs are temporary (construction) or highly skilled (not local). Critics argue generous tax breaks/subsidies mainly benefit tech companies while offering limited long-term gains for communities.

8. Lack of Transparency and Community Input
Residents report rushed approvals, secretive deals, and insufficient details on impacts (e.g., exact water/energy use or emissions), leading to feelings of unfairness or environmental injustice.

9. Effects on Local Property Values
Communities frequently worry that noise, visual blight, traffic, higher utility costs, and quality-of-life declines will make homes less desirable, potentially lowering resale values (with some residents and groups citing fears of 5–20% drops in affected areas). Buyers may hesitate or demand discounts near proposed or existing centers.

HALT the AI DATA CENTER PROJECT on LONG FERRY ROAD in ROWAN COUNTY

The Request:

We, the undersigned residents and property owners of Rowan County, formally urge the Board of Commissioners to deny the final permits for the proposed AI data center project on Long Ferry Road. We request a formal moratorium on all high-intensity data center developments and for the zoning to be amended.

Dear Rowan County Commissioners,

My name is Leah Robinson. I reside at 176 Wilk-Rob Rd. We are one of the closest properties to the proposed rezoning under Legislative Hearing Z01-26/SNIA 01-26.

You may remember me from my participation in the April 6th meeting where this was originally discussed. I am writing this letter to express my full opposition to this rezoning.

When attending the meeting on April 6th, I was under the impression that I was simply attending this meeting to oppose this particular request (Z01-26/SNIA 01-26). I was appalled to find out, during the planning staff's presentation, that my home and surrounding areas had already been set aside as a CBI area in the land use plan adopted in 2025. A plan that was approved by you, this board of Rowan County Commissioners.

This land use plan puts my family's 80-year homestead (the Wilkinson homestead of the namesake, Wilkinson Road) squarely in the middle of what's well on its way to becoming a business park. Not to mention 40+ other residential properties on Wilkinson Road. You have zoned our homes, homes that we have had for decades, as a business area and not one of us were informed.

During the April 6th meeting, I listened to Commissioner Jim Greene say that "we don't want our county to look like Mecklenburg and be nothing but business. We love our rural areas". I agree, Commissioner Greene. This is why this is so important to those of us, like yourself, Commissioner Greene, "that love the way Rowan County looks". I love my home and the way it looks. I would imagine similarly to how you love the rural lands of your farm and surrounding areas. Commissioner Pierce also expressed his frustrations around the development happening near his home. He stated quite passionately that he and his neighbors had no say so at all in that development. This is exactly the corner you, this board of Rowan County Commissioners, have backed my neighbors and myself into.

I spent this past Sunday going door to door on Wilkinson Road speaking with my neighbors. No one knew of any of this, the proposed rezoning under Z01-26/SNIA 01-26 nor the adopted 2025 land use plan that puts us in the middle of a CBI zone. The overarching sentiment I received was "when will they stop". We too have had no say so at all, Commissioner Pierce. Commissioner Edds mentioned the main use of the land use plan is to "keep rural, rural" and to place business "where it makes sense, along 85, 29, and 70 and try to keep us rural". Wilkinson Road is nowhere close to 85, 29, or 70. If these are truly your views and feelings as commissioners, how in good conscience can you further approve these rezonings?

The rezoning that is proposed at the Mooresville Drag Strip under Legislative Hearing Z01-26/SNIA 01-26 will only further set this precedence. It also does not enhance our community or surrounding areas. We already have a racing school; it is located 10 miles away. Why would we need another one in an area that will only further reduce our rural lands and create unsafe road conditions in Rowan County?

Currently there are 3 other properties zoned CBI on Wilkinson Road. Properties that have been rezoned by you, this board of Rowan County Commissioners, as each of you have been on this board for at least 12 years. With these business areas alone, already traffic is at an all-time high. We have huge dump trucks, RVs with pull behind trailers, and exponential traffic all day, every day that has already resulted in unsafe road conditions. Just Saturday morning from the hour of 10 – 11 am, 276 vehicles passed by my family's driveway. 40 of these were oversized haulers with more than 3 axles. There were also 27 bicyclists and 7 instances noted of unauthorized vehicles (golf carts and ATVs) on the road. Wilkinson Road was not made to accommodate this type nor this amount of traffic. It creates unsafe road conditions for all.

This doesn't even begin to take into account the amount of traffic that is coming our way with the Sunwest Business Park (https://sunwestbusinesspark.com/) that is currently under construction at the intersection of Wilkinson Road and Highway 152. That again has already been approved by you, the Rowan County Commissioners, and will be bringing another 33 commercial development lots our way.

I cannot begin to imagine a racing school on top of this. The traffic study presented at the April 6th meeting doesn't take the development that's already underway into consideration. It also does not truly give an accurate representation of the traffic we experience on a daily basis as this study was conducted in 2022, 4 years ago. To put that into perspective, 2022 is when Commissioners Greene, Edds, and Klusman started this current term of service.

The majority of folks that live on Wilkinson Road have been long-time residents like myself. We were here before the bulk of your rezonings and approvals that landed us into this alleged CBI area. These approvals that are turning our homes into a business park.

I urge the Rowan County Commissioners to take a hard look at this proposition and at your practices for public engagement. At what you are doing to Wilkinson Road. At what you are doing to our rural lands. At what you are doing to what makes Rowan County Rowan County.

I am Rowan County. My neighbors are Rowan County. We were born here, raised here, lived here, and stayed here. We matter. Our homes matter. Stop pushing us out.

Respectfully,

Leah Robinson
